Have YOU seen this creature?

We've had reports that some penguins have seen the strange creature on Club Penguin. Have you? Apparently, it's hard to spot because it's always moving, keeps you very surprised.

NAME Wendy the Werewolf

ORIGIN Werewolves

COLOUR

SAYS

LIKES

DISLIKES

Look at the size of those hands! It looks strong enough to tip the iceberg!

It seems to be wearing a tatty, Beta Tester Hat. Could that mean it's been on Club Penguin for a long time?

Yikes, talk about big feet! Wait... You don't think this could be the legendary Bigfoot, do you?

How to draw... Puffles

Use this guide to create picture-perfect puffles every time!

Draw a circle, and a curved cross to show the angle of the face.

Next, draw on the outline of the eyes as shown.

Draw on a happy mouth, or choose your own expression.

Using the circle as a guide, draw the puffle's body shape and hair.

Next, draw the pupils.

Erase your guidelines and then add some colour.

Now try

drawing a whole range of different puffle faces!

PEN CAP SUBMARINE

YOU WILL NEED:

1. Empty plastic bottle with lid
2. Plastic pen cap
3. Plasticine
4. Water

With this experiment, Agent G shows you how a real submarine can sink underwater and float back to the top!

This is how real submarines work. They have tanks inside which they fill with water when they want to sink, and fill with air when they want to float to the top! Simple, huh?
